Compost Connect: First-Time Attendee Exhibit Hall Tour

New to COMPOST2027? Start your day by getting comfortable by meeting fellow first-time attendees, and discovering the people, products, and resources that make up the composting industry.

This guided tour (small groups of 18 people) is designed to help first-time attendees feel comfortable navigating the exhibit hall while gaining a practical introduction to the companies, technologies, services, and industry resources represented at COMPOST2027. Led by an experienced industry guide, the tour will make stops with selected exhibitors and provide a welcoming, peer-group experience for asking questions, making connections, and learning what's available to support your work.

Using headsets to clearly hear the tour leader and industry experts throughout the exhibit hall, participants will move from stop to stop, hearing brief introductions from exhibitors, seeing products and technologies firsthand, and learning about resources that can help them in their careers and day-to-day work. The 60-minute tour will be like a learning session in itself!

The tour will highlight:

- Getting to Know the Industry – Weave through the exhibit hall and see companies and organizations serving the composting and organics recycling industry. Learn about the categories represented on the show floor.
- Making the Most of the Exhibit Hall – Learn how to navigate the hall, identify exhibitors relevant to your particular interests, and make the most of your time at COMPOST2027.
- Get a firsthand look at equipment, technologies, services, and other solutions that are shaping the industry and make a list for return visits to the show floor to visit those companies that interest you.
- Building Connections – Connect with fellow first-time attendees and industry professionals in a relaxed, guided setting.

This is an opportunity to start your conference experience with a built-in peer group and a guide who can help you make connections and find your way around.

By the end of the tour, participants will have a better understanding of the industry landscape, new contacts to follow up with, and greater confidence in navigating the exhibit hall and making the most of their COMPOST2027 experience.

Registration: $25. When you arrive for Compost Connect you will receive a free 35th Annual Conference T-shirt! First-time attendees who are not yet members can also later redeem 25% off a 2026-27 membership. Space limited to 54 participants.
